4. Confounded be all they
Who in their folly pray
To gods of man's creation
And boast of vain salvation.
Jehovah, Him we laud,
For He alone is God.
Come, all ye gods, draw near,
And worship Him with fear,
By His dominion awed.

6. Ye lovers of the Lord,
To Him all praise accord;
Rejoice in your confession
And hate all base transgression.
Jehovah keepeth well
The saints in Israel;
He frees them from the snare
That wicked men prepare,
And makes them safely dwell.

5. All Zion then rejoiced,
When in her gates were voiced
The judgments, O Jehovah,
Which Thou hast wrought for Judah.
Her daughters sang with mirth,
For high above the earth,
Thou, who art God alone,
Hast made Thyself a throne
And magnified Thy worth.

7. Jehovah's kindly face
Gives happiness and grace
To all that are pure-hearted;
To them life is imparted.
Rejoice in God, ye just,
He raised you from the dust;
Give thanks, ye people all,
His holy Name recall,
Repose in Him your trust.
